Long live Valencia, the land where songs of love and hymns of piece resound!

We offer you our own story of this beautiful city. Together with our daughters, this book's narrators, you will visit Valencia's churches and museums. Taste its paellas and wines. See the remnants of Roman and Muslim cities. Get acquainted with Valencia's most famous and most humble historical personalities. Walk around the Old Town and see a sunset over the Albufera Lake.

Please start your tour with the central part of our book. The Valencia Bonita list and two maps will be a great help.

Welcome to Valencia!

VIVA VALENCIA! ¡VISCA VALENCIA!

VIVA VALENCIA! - ¡VISCA VALENCIA!

Hello!
That's right, it's us again.
Last time, we walked around Dénia together. And now it's Valencia's turn.
The "Land of beautiful women and flowers."
This book does not pretend to be a complete guide to the history and culture of Valencia. It is a dialogue between two girls (though perhaps not a conventionally structured one). Paulina and Martina live in modern-day Cap and Casal.
Little by little, they will introduce you to their favourite city. Its museums and beaches. Baroque and Modernist buildings. Where to eat paella and ali i pebre.
Please go straight to the centre of the book. You will see some essential guides.
A short list of the TOPs: Valencia Bonita.
A map called digo, showing the places of interest in the Old Town.
And a broader map, DiVa, explaining, which suburbs you should head to first.
We are sure you will enjoy the Valencia that we know and love.
Please write to us at grishins@me.com with any questions or suggestions.
Yours,
George, Katherina and Paulina Grishin
